

Senate Minutes 4-8

President's Report

Peebles: shared the results from the online class survey sent out last week. Most students said that they were more satisfied with online classes presently than they were when they began here. The student body was somewhat divided on the impact of online classes on their performance. There was a significant percentage represented in all answer choices. Some interesting commonalities are present. The first is that students who want online classes as an option are either part-time or they have outside obligations whereas most full-time students living on campus wouldn't use online classes if given the option not to. The survey results will be sent to the Faculty Association so that they can analyze the results. Anyone wishing to write legislation in response is open to do so.

Vice President's Report

Brooks: Next week is the last senate meeting for the year and any legislation is needed by next tuesday.

Advisor's Report

Shores: Introduced the new advisor, Bellande Bertrand.

Bertrand: introduced himself as the new student life coordinator and SGA advisor.

Election Committee Report

Brooks: It is expected that nominations for executive board positions will be open by this weekend. Anyone interested in holding an executive position is encouraged to run. More information will be sent out as soon as updates are made

SAB Report

Austin: There will be an ice cream social at 2:00 in the oval today.

Open Discussion and Announcements

Baird: USAO Drama and Theater arts will be performing tomorrow at 7:30 PM.

Melendez: wants to congratulate everyone who received a Minerva Award.

Alexander: OSGA has applications open to anyone wanting to run for state executive board and the student advisory board.

Fuston: plans to submit legislation next week for SGA to purchase hammocks.